

Key Takeaways

- Both U.S. and global M&A markets were mixed in April compared to March, with total deal values falling and total deal counts increasing modestly. Globally, sponsor and strategic deal markets reflected this broader trend. However, in the United States, strategic deals fell by deal value and count, while sponsor deals increased by both measures. Notably, for the first time since August 2023, U.S. sponsor deal value was higher than U.S. strategic deal value.
- Year-over-year, both U.S. and global total deal values and deal counts were down. By sector, strategic deals followed this broader trend, but sponsor deal value was up and deal count down.
- Computers & Electronics was the leading U.S. industry by total deal value and deal count in April and for the last twelve months (LTM).
- U.S. inbound crossborder activity was down by all measures in April compared to March. Germany led inbound activity by deal value, while Japan led LTM. France, Germany, Japan and the United Kingdom tied for the leading number of inbound deals in April, while Canada saw the most inbound deals LTM. U.S. outbound crossborder activity fell by deal value compared to March, but increased by deal count. The United Kingdom led outbound activity by deal value and number of deals in April and LTM.
- U.S. public deals announced in April had:
 - An average reverse break fee of 4.0%, below the LTM average (5.8%); and
 - No go-shops.

Endnotes

- Industries categories are determined and named by Dealogic.
- Based on the highest target break fees and reverse break fees payable in a particular deal.
- There were five transactions in April 2025.
- Financial and strategic categories are determined by Deal Point Data.
- Two transactions in April 2025 had a reverse break fee.
- No transactions in April 2025 involved a financial buyer.
- Two transactions in April 2025 involving a strategic buyer had a reverse break fee.
- No transactions in April 2025 involved a financial buyer.
- Five transactions in April 2025 involved a strategic buyer.
- No transactions in April 2025 had a go-shop provision.
- No transactions in April 2025 involved a financial buyer.
- No transactions in April 2025 involving a strategic buyer had a go-shop provision.
- Due to rounding, percentages may not add up to 100%.
- This data includes both announced transactions for which a definitive merger agreement was reached and filed and those for which a definitive merger agreement was never reached and filed (including withdrawn transactions).
- Unaffected Premium % indicates the difference between the current price per share offered as consideration in the transaction and the “unaffected price”, reflected as a percentage. The “unaffected price” is the target’s closing stock price on the date that is one calendar day prior to the first public disclosure regarding a potential deal involving the target and on which the target’s stock price was unaffected by the news of the deal.

The charts on pp. 1–2 and 5–9 were compiled using Dealogic and are for the broader M&A market, including public and private transactions of any value. Deal volume by dollar value and average value of deals are calculated from the subset of deals that include a disclosed deal value. The charts on pp. 3–4 were compiled using Deal Point Data and include acquisitions seeking majority or higher control of U.S. targets valued at $100 million or higher announced during the period indicated and for which a definitive merger agreement was reached and filed (except with respect to data regarding premiums and hostile/unsolicited offers, which is for all announced deals). “Last 12 Months” data is for the period from May 2024 to April 2025, inclusive, and “year over year” data compares April 2024 and April 2025. Data obtained from Dealogic and Deal Point Data has not been reviewed for accuracy by Paul, Weiss.
